DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 137-145 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 137, “at least one lifter electrically connected to the pair of line terminals” is indefinite because the lifter does not appear as electrically connected to the line terminals in either the drawings or the specification.

Claims 138-145 inherit the defect in their parent claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 72-75, 78-92, 95-108, 111-123, 126-138, 140-145, 152-155, and 158-161 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Li(US6580344).

Li discloses first (9,10,20,21), second (13,14,109,110), and third (11,12) electrical conductors; lifter 28 with first opening 29; latch 30 with second opening 31; reset lockout (col 5, lines 18-41); tripping test arm 70; coil 26 and plunger 42.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 76, 77, 93, 94, 109, 110, 124, 125, 156, 157 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Li, cited above, in view of Passow(US6642823).

Li did not disclose a movable bridge comprising a first finger and a second finger.

Passow disclosed a movable bridge with fingers to increase the probability they will make contact with stationary contacts in the presence of surface oxides or foreign particles on the contact surface (col, 5, lines 1-7). It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to employ in Li a movable bridge having first and second fingers for the reason disclosed in Passow.

Application of the Passow teaching to Li results in a first finger movable to electrically engage the second electrical conductor (13,14) and a second finger is movable to electrically engage the third electrical conductor(5,6) via the second electrical conductor.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 139 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

8. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Li in view of Passow, the closest prior art of record, failed to disclose or reasonably suggest wherein the at least one movable bridge further comprises a pair of bridge load contacts and a pair of bridge face contacts disposed thereon, wherein the pair of bridge load contacts is positionable to electrically engage a corresponding pair of load terminal contacts and the bridge face contacts are positionable to electrically engage a corresponding pair of face terminal contacts.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 9/10/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, Passow provides the solution of a movable bridge with fingers to increase the probability they will make contact with stationary contacts in the presence of surface oxides or foreign particles on the contact surface (col, 5, lines 1-7). This is deemed a problem common to many make and break contacts as they age.
